

health.on a Mission

We, health.on Ventures GmbH, are a very dynamic and young company that identifies and markets unknown consumer healthcare ideas with great market potential and promotes innovative healthcare products and solutions. We turn products into strong brands with content, function and a high level of trust. In addition to the shopping experience (provided, for instance, by our online shop sornishop.fr), our online offer to customers also includes comprehensive health information. We have recently expanded our B2C business into France and Belgium by opening up sornishop.fr.

For our rapidly growing company based in the Medical Valley Center in Erlangen, Germany, we are offering on an ongoing basis a
